

GOLD & SILVER TRADING STRATEGY PLAYBOOK FOR THE NEXT SIX MONTHS

Everyone is hyped about the gold and silver debasement trade and all the traders expect the uptrend started months ago which was parabolic to continue. But will it be like that? Do we have fundamental and technical support that it will continue as everyone are expecting?

Recent sentiment appears supportive to gold and silver: markets are increasingly pricing in a potential rate cut by the Fed — which would reduce real yields and lower the opportunity cost of holding gold.

At the same time, a relatively strong USD has recently capped upside — gold recently struggled to break out amid USD strength and improved risk sentiment (equities).

Demand from central banks remains a structural tailwind for gold: with persistent inflationary, geopolitical, and debt-related pressures globally, many central banks continue to allocate to gold as a reserve asset.

On the supply side, because gold supply grows slowly, any surge in demand (physical, speculative, reserve-driven) tends to have an outsized effect — a factor that supports longer-term fundamentals for gold relative to many commodities.

Gold (XAUSUD) is in the strong long-term uptrend channel. It has bounced from the 4251 support and has reached the resistance of 4380 fast. The triangle has been formed after that with a 4000 support and 4180 resistance now as you can see on the chart below. Trading in this range will be favored for a while, but soon big directional moves are coming and it will be played out in the next three months. You should be positioned properly for this and you will earn huge profit. The basic move will not only be to the upside, the uptrend will continue but not immediately as many think. Silver (XAGUSD) is also in the long-term uptrend channel. Also there is a visible trading range triangle with a 49.800 support and 54.300 resistance. The same directional move will happen in Silver and it will shape the market with a huge profit opportunity and even more taking into an account the silver volatility.
